JASON WONG

626-435-5197 | jwaosnogn@gmail.com

Los Angeles, CA
https://github.com/jwaosnogn
www.linkedin.com/in/jwong1995

PROFILE

Experienced PCI software engineer who can implement frontend payments systems. Team player who focuses on clear communication and simple, tested code to tackle challenges and build exceptional products.

EXPERIENCE

Currency Capital | Full Stack Software Engineer   MAR 2019 - Present

- Currently working on payments platform (TypeScript, React, and Node) that allows customers to purchase high-cost equipment from vendors online through credit card, checking, and financing options
- Platform has seen an increase from $40,000,000 to $70,000,000 in transactions processed and a net profit of $400,000 per month since joining and implementing internationalization, surcharge fee calculation, and other features
- Contributed in development in monorepo that aggregates frontend apps, backend services, and common packages, increasing
- Worked on financing application and services (TypeScript, AngularJS, Node, and .NET), enabling users to apply for loans through various lenders when purchasing equipment from supported vendors
- Engaged in team-wide effort to migrate internal application from AngularJS to React

EXTRA-CURRICULAR

GraphnomiQL

- Developed application with Electron and React that enables users to visualize, edit, and export updates of their GraphQL schema

EDUCATION

Codesmith | Coding Bootcamp   2019

University of California, Santa Barbara | B.S. Financial Math and Stats   2018
Relevant Coursework: Python, Linear Algebra, Data Analysis

INTERESTS

Exploring new places, trying new food, basketball, Call of Duty, EDM, reminding people that my last name is not Parse